IT WILL OPEN 10-DAY WITH PERFORMANCE OF "RHEINGOLD."

Dr. Hann Eichter Will Lend-Many Amer-leans There - The Tetralogy Will Be Fredeced Five Times - Twenty Years Since Wagner First Produced the Series. BAYREUTH, July 18 .- The Bayrouth Festival will open to-morrow with a performance of "Rheingold" at the Feetsplelhaus under the orchestral leadership of Dr. Hans Richter of Vienna, who also led the orchestra twenty ears ago, when Richard Wagner first produced

his tetralogy, "Der Ring des Nibelungen." Visitors have been arriving for several days past, and many arrived to-day. A great numer of those coming to hear the master's great work are Americans, who are flocking to Bayreuth from all those parts of Europe where they have been sojourning. Some of them have de the long journey from their homes in the United States for no reason other than to hear

Among the prominent German visitors are the mother of Empress Augusta Victoria, Dr. von Puttkamer, formerly Prussian Minister of the Interior, and the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg. Emperor William has taken tickets. and he will, perhaps, be present at the last cycle in August, but he has not yet definitely decided whether or not he will attend.

"Rheingold" will be given to-morrow. On Monday "Die Walkurs" will be produced; on Tuesday "Siegfried," and on Wednesday "Gotterdammerung." The second cycle will begin on July 26, the third on Aug. 2, the fourth on Aug. 9, and the last on Aug. 16. The weather is

There is no educated man or woman through out the civilized world in whose mind Bayrouth is not synonymous with Richard Wagner, Twenty years ago this was not the case. Bayreuth was a small provincial town in the kingkom of Bavarla. Its only claim to fame was derived from the legend that the old castle of the Margraves of Anabach was haunted by a Dame Blanche." This quiet little country town Wagner had selected in which to build himself a homestead, afterward known as Villa Wahnfried," so called by him because there his imagination found its realization. there his imagination found its realization. And he there was able to produce on a stage especially designed for the purpose his great work, the tetraloxy. "Der Ring des Nibelungan." It is well nigh lifty years ago that Wagner, then still a comparatively unknown man, although his great operas "Rienzi," "Flying Dutchman," and "Tannhauser" had been produced with tremendous success, conceived the idea of writing and composing the marvellous tetralogy "Der Ring des Nibelungan." Twenty years passed before the supendous work was soored. And if it had not been for the liberality and the magnanimity of King Ludwig II, of Bavaria it is very questionable whether Wagner would have lived to see this work produced on any stage.

would have lived to see this work produced on any stage.

In 1872 Wagner was able to lay the foundation stone for his Frestpielhaus on a hill north of Hayreuth, and on Aug. 13, 1876, the first public performence of the tetralogy began in the presence of the German Emperor, William I., a number of princes, and men well known is the domain of art and literature. The assembly that waited the ringing up of the curtain on that memorable day was illustrious in every sense of the word. The Bayreuth people had fairly tried to make their little town appear werthy of such a gathering of personages. They had decerated their houses, and festoons were drawn across the streets leasing to the Festspishaus.

King Ludwig attended the full dress rehearsals, Originally it was intended that no person besides the King should astend in the auditorium during these dress rehearsals, but the complete emptiness of the auditorium was so detrimental to the effects of the stage performance that Wagner, with the King's approval, filled the house on the second, third, and fourth days of the rehearsal with invited hearers.

It is a long ory from Bayreuth, 1876, to Bay-proval, filled the house on the second, third, and fourth days of the rehearsal with invited hearers.

It is a long ory from Bayreuth, 1876, to Bayreuth, 1896, and in 1876 Wagner had few friends in the American press. One of the first champions of Wagner's art in American was Otto Floersheim in his articles in the Heldristischen Hauter. Since then so much has changed that America produces the strongest contingent of the most thorough Wagnerites.

But also in Germany great changes were wrought. When Wagner in 1876, after the curtain had been rung down on the first performance, came forward and announced to the satusished audience that "now they could have a new art if they but willed it," he was attacked from all sides and mercilessly torn to pieces. Bes. sly years later the "new art" was already acknowledged. The German Crown Prince, afterward Emperor Frederick, said in 1882 that he could not find words to describe the impression he had received, as it surpassed all he ever anticipated.

A French critic wrote: "If the hearer is not moved to profound devotion, then verily no ceremony of the Church is able to arouse within him any such emotion." And the well-known German critic, Wilhelm Tappert, put the feeling of the great mass into this sentence: "A more noble legacy than this festival play the master could not have left us."

Since the original production there have been many changes on the stage and behind the scenes, but the most important change of all has been in the character and spirit of the enterprise. This, avowedly intended by Wagner to advance tone and new art, and for no other purpose, is now an instrument to advance the pecuniary interests of the Wagner family.

IRISH LAND BILL DOOMED.

The Whole Matter Will Be Bropped After Some More Wrangling.

onnon, July 18 .- During the month since the Irish Land bill passed its second reading a violent conflict has been waged over its possible Nationalists has not come to pass. Lord Lans-downe and Lord Ashbourne, Mr. E. II. Carson, Mr. Smith Barry, and the whole landlord clique, have used their influence successfully to induce the Government to introduce amendments fatal to its acceptance by the Nationalists.

Mr. Gerald Balfour, the putative father of the measure, still affects to hope that the bill will pass through committee next week. But within and without the Ministerial circle the bill is considered wrecked. Besides the amendments proposed by Mr. Halfour, under landlord pressure, destructive of tenants' claims for imovements, there are amendments in the land-pressure, destructive of temants' claims for improvements, there are amendments in the landlord interest of such a character as no Minister dare adopt, and others on the Nationalist side, which the innilords will never concesse. If the Government had left the improvement clauses as they stood, the Nationalists would have taken the bit as a poor installment of justice to the tenant. But with incredible foily and weakness Mr. Balfour has succumbed to the hand owners, and the Government is about to add another to its flascos of the ession.

Mr. Dillon is conducting the open campaign against the landlord proposals with skill and tenacity, as he has the privatenegotiations with tast. There is no difference between the Nationalist sections as to their lines of apposition. It is learly possible that the bill may get through committee by the Government withholding their support from some of the more obnoxious of the landlord amendments, but these will be reinserted and carried in the House of Lords, sent back in this mutilated form to the House of Commons, and after a prolonged wrangle the whole measure will be drouped. Then there will begin a no-rous campaign during the coming winter among the Libroughout freland.

Mr. Balfour announced last night that he would ask the House of Monday to suspend the 12 o'clock rule until the close of the seasion. Under this role the House rises at midnight. Mr. Balfour aspet to facilitate the discussion of the Irish Land bill.

LI'S VISIT TO ENGLAND.

He Will Re Finely Treated, But Not As a Statesman with Powers.

LONDON, July 18.-Li Hung Chang, the Chiweeks in England as the guest of the nation, is cted to arrive shortly. The amazing deception which the Germans practised upon them-selves in attributing to 1.4 Hung Chang the power to purchase war ships, raise loans, con-clude contracts, and order material of all sorts will not be fallen into by his British entertain ers. He will be the guest of the Foreign Office, have an audience with the Queen, see the dock-have an audience with the Queen, see the doek-yards and the shipbuilding yards, but the Foreign Office is under no inlaappreheasion as to the limitation of his powers.

He has no authority to conclude contracts for anything. It is learned from an authoritative source that he has certain draft conventions, prepared while he was in Rossia, relating to loans, railway extensions, and customs, with others suggested in Berlin, and that he is ready to receive and discuss diverse proposals in Paris, London, and the United States. But Pekin must decide upon them.

Li Hung Chang is a statesman travelling "on commission." The State or syndicate which parts with its mener for his projects may regret its want of foresight. The itussian dovernment has a diplomatist detective "shadowing" Li-a Prince Ootomski—who is charged with finding out what offers for railway extensions, loans, etc., may be made in opposition to the proposed Bussian deal.

THE CRETAN QUESTION.

A Conference of the Powers May Counide the Advisability of Interference. BERLIN, July 18,-Prince Bismarck's opinion upon the Cretau question as given in an interriew published in the Neue Freis Press of Vienna, that it interested him less than the bit of land in his garden, is being widely quoted by the German press. This opinion, however, is not shared in the Foreign Office nor by the Em peror, who is daily sending and receiving telegrams upon the subject. There is high authority for the statement that negotiations are in progress for the calling of a conference of the European powers to consider the advisability of concerted interference. Some of the Paris newspapers announce that M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has actually made a direct proposal that such a conference be convened, but this assertion has been semi-officially denied. Still, semi-official statements are not always correct. It is a fact, however, that communications are being exchanged among some of the powers with a view to bringng about a settlement of the Cretan troubles.

The basis of the difficulty ites in the scope of the suggested conference. All of the powers are now convinced that the Cretans will no onger submit to the absolute authority of the Turks, and they fear an extension of the rising of the islanders to Macedonia and the consequent precipitation of the whole Eastern quesion to an acute stage. The Dreibund together with England will accept a conference if it shall be limited to consideration of a settlement of the twoubles in Crete. It is only Russia and France that want a wider basis of considera-

In the mean time the Porte steadily opposes all intervention on the part of the powers. The general belief in diplomatic circles here, however, is that a conference will be arranged upon the terms laid down by the Dreibund, and that it will be held in Constantinople if the Porte viil consent to it, and probably in Vienna if the Turkish Government refuses to have it meet in the Turkish capital.

BY-ELECTIONS IN GERMANY, Defeat of the Agrarians-Intense Feeling

BERLIN, July 18.—Two notable by-elections for members of the Reichstag have been held this week. In the Loewenberg district the Freisinnig candidate was elected by 1,100 majority over the candidates of the Agrarians and the Conservatives. Hitherto Loewenberg has been a Conservative stronghold. The Agrarians explain their defeat in every way except the true one, which is that the once strong influence of their party is fast waning in Loewenberg, and to that cause is due the last of their series of defeats since the general elections.

In the Sohwetz district the German candidate ceat the Polish nomines by only 187 votes after an exceedingly bitter contest, in which a number of free fights occurred. In one instance a party of German electors assailed a Polish land-owner while he was on his way to the polls and attempted to prevent him from going to the veting place. The landowner drew a revolver and fired into the crowd, killing one of his assaliants and wounding another very seriously. The Polish election committee summoned the Polish workmen from all parts of the district to uphold their national ticket. No recent incident has occurred to se strongly prove the inensity of the feeling of nationalism in the Polish districts of Prussia.

BIG STRIKE IMPENDING.

British Coal Miners on Starvation Wages Prepare to Revolt.

LONDON, July, 18.—The cable despatch on July 10 announcing the break-up of the Miners' Conciliation Board gave the prelude to a gigantic struggle between the coal owners and their workmen. The Conciliation Board, launched under Lord Rosebery's auspices, and patronized by Lord James, with other philanthropic politicians, was to revolutionize the relations between the men and their masters. There were to be no more strikes, and wages and hours were to be amicably regulated.

Since coal began to drop in price, the masters have dropped wages concurrent with the fall in LONDON, July 18 .- A select committee of the House of Commons, which has long been con sidering certain proposed restrictions of the oleomargarine trade, has presented its report. It recommends that the coloring of oleomargafortunes in committee. The looked-for com-promise between the landlord interest and the oleomargarine and butter be held illegal, even if sold as a mixture. There are other restrictions concerning registration of dealers in oleomargarine, labelling, packing, &c.

The committee was composed mainly of agri cultural members, who carried out the ideas of the Central Chamber of Agriculture for fostering the English dairy trade. The American oleomargarine exporter will doubtless be abl to accommodate himself to the new conditions somehow.

VENEZUELA AND ARRITRATION. British Opinion that All Points of Differ. ences Will Be Settled.

LONDON, July 18.-Prime Minister Salisbury's statement in the llouse of Lords yesterday, when he laid upon the table of the llouse the paper relating to the Anglo-Venezuelan boundary dispute, and his further statement concernng the negotiations pending between the British and American Governments regarding arbitration between Great Britain and the United States, afforded an absorbing topic in the lobbies of Parliament. The consensus of opinion is that the Prime Minister's spec foreshadowed a settlement of all the points of difference between the two countries.

Lord Salisbury, in making the statements, spoke slower than usual, and his language was exceedingly cautious. It was this cautiousness, perhaps, which prevented him from speaking with his wonted lucidity, but scarcely any doubt is entertained here that the differences between the two Governments are in a fair way to an amicable and mutually honorable adjust-to an amicable and mutually honorable adjustment.

When it became known in the House of Commons that the papers in the boundary dispute had been init upon the table of the House of Lords a number of the members of the former body bastened to obtain copies of the correspondence, but they found that the papers had been presented in dummy form, and were not yet ready for distribution.

The Globe says that the documents are really disappointing. The paper ands that it has no wish for an arbitration treaty and expresses the opinion that Lord Sallsbury ought not to have made any reference in his remarks yesterday to the cases of Beigtom and Poland, as it seems to imply a recognition of the Moorce doctrine.

The Wastminster Guetle expresses the opinion that the national seatiment of tirsat Britain is certainly in favor of a permanent commission of arbitration.

BERLIN, July 18 .- The Reichsanzeiger, the official journal, announces that in the Govern-ment's new colonial bill there will be a striking provision whereby young colonists liable to military service in the German army may per-form such service in the colonial forces instead of its being obligatory upon them to serve in Germany.

MR. CORBIN'S DECORATION.

KING HUMBERT'S MARK OF AP-PROVAL OF THE SUNNY SIDE WORK.

success of the Scheme for Supplanting Un reliable Negro Labor with Italian Colonists-How Sunny Side Prospers-Colonists Taking Up and Paying for Farms. Of the many enterprises inaugurated or controlled by the late Austin Corbin none was watched by him with more interest than his plan for the settlement of the lands belonging to the Sunny Side Company in Chico county, Arkansas, Realizing soon after his purchase of these lands the shiftless character of the negroes upon whom he was obliged to rely solely, he set about to procure labor that would be industrious and willing to give some assurance that the crops would not be deserted when they most needed tilling. With selected the farmer class of the north of Italy with which to make his experiment. In order to carry out his plan he asked the help of Baron Fava, the Italian Minister to this country, and of Prince Emanuel Ruspoli, the Mayor of Rome. These gentlemen became interested In the scheme, and with their endorsement Mr. Corbin was able to secure the consent of 150 families in Lombardy to come to this country to raise cotton on the Sunny Side fields.

The families, numbering some 600 men, women, and children, arrived in New Orleans last November on the Chateau Yquem, and were at once taken by the Anchor line boats to Sunny Side, which is about 500 miles north of New Orleans. The Italians were so pleased with their surroundings, and the reports sent to their old homes gave such gratification to those who had fostered the experiment, that the Italian Government decided to take official recognition of Mr. Corbin's act. Accordingly he was notified in March last that the King of Italy had decided to create him a chevalier of the Order of the Crown of Italy. The jewel of the order, of which there is a picture below, arrived only about a fortnight before Mr. Corbin's death. The cross is of white enamel, and on a gold circle in its centre are engraved in relief on one side a crown, and on the other the symbolic eagle.

Risk of Trally.

Grand haster of the Order of the Crown of Italy, has signed the following decree:

Upon the proposition of our Minister, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, we have nominated and nominate Austin Corbin, an American citizen, Chevalier of the Order of the Crown of Italy, with the faculty to decorate himself with the insignia of such established equestrian grade.

The Chancellor of the order is intrusted with the execution of the present decree, which will be registered at the chancery of the same order.

Dated at Rome, January 16, 1806.

Signed, Humbert. Countersigned, Blake.

The Chancellor of the Order of the Crown of Italy declares that in execution of the above written revered royal disposition, the said Mr. Austin Corbin was inscribed in the roll of Chevaliers (foreign) of No. 8,313, and this present document sent to the decorated.

Since coal began to drop in price, the masters have dropped wages concurrent with the fall in prices. The men's delegates demanded that the Board should concede a minimum statutory wage for seventeen months. This was refused. The coal owners at present prefer that their action remain an open question. In some great mining districts, men working four to five days per week earn only twelve shillings. Their starvation is a conclusive reply to the masters' open question. So the Miners' Federation, the Derbyshire, the Lancashire, and Durham associations are organizing their forces for a big strike.

WAR ON OLEOMARGARINE.

It Is Preposed to Piace Stringent Restrictions on the Trade in England, London, July 18.—A select committee of the coton of the Sunny Side experiment has been awaited with great interest by the Janters in the Mississippi Valley. Heretofore the cotton has been raised exclusively by negroes, and even where they became tennes, by renting fields or 'cats," as they are known in the language of the swamp, the planter had practically to take all the risk. With few exceptions, each plantation has its store in which are kept salt pork, meal, flour, molasses, tobacco, calomel, and quinine. On some of the plantations the stock is more comprehensive, but it always includes these articles. As a rule, the effort of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro is to buy as much on credit, to be settled when the crop is ginned, as the planter of the negro.

give nim a good-sized sum in cash besides, all goes well. If, however, he sees that his crop will not pay him out or will leave very little cash for him, he informs the planter that he will urn the crop over to him as it stands in the field.

This means that the planter must pay the expenses of picking the cotton, and, as labor is always scarce, he usually hires the tenant and his family to pick it. The wares thus carned are so much clear gain, for the nestro argues that the crop was security for the store debt, and he paid, that when he gave up the security. This is one of the many objections to the exclusive use of negro labor. It is not meant to say that there are not honest and respectable negro tenants owning their commules, paying their debts promptly, and who rent often as much as a hundred acres of land. As a class, however, the negro labor is unsatisfactory.

On the other hand, the Italians that Mr. Corbin brought over have become purchasers of land on the installment plan, and for that reason, if for no other, must become better producers. Sumy Side has oeen divided into plots of twelve and a half acres cach, and many of the Italians have taken several plots.

For the first two or three years the payments required are very light, overing little more than the amount necessary for taxes. About 3.500 acres have been taken up in this way and there is enough cultivated land left to accommodate about cighty more families. The outlook for this season's crop is promising and all bands will begin picking in about a fortnight. It is literally "all hands," for every one able to walk, from the children up, turns out when the crop is ripening fast.

There are about 10,000 acres owned by the Sunny Side Company, with several miles of frontage on the Mississippl River and hearly as much on Lake Chicot. A railroad belonging to the company ruits from the main landing on the river back through the whole length of the plantation.

KRUEGER IS FORGIFING.

that he has no vindictive feeling toward Dr. Jameson, the leader of the raid into the Transwasl, and that he hopes his trial in London will not result in severe punishment for him. JAMESON'S RAID.

The Cape Town Committee Say Cecil Rhodes Knew of It.

CAPE Town, July 18.-The committee of the Capé Assembly which has been engaged in inves-tigating the raid made by Dr. Jameson and his followers into the Transvasi last winter have presented a majority report declaring that Cecil Rhodes was aware of the intention of Jameson to invade the Boer country, but that the directors of the British South Africa Company in London were not aware, though they ought to have had their suspicions aroused, seeing that large payments of money were being made for alleged purposes of flotation, which really amounted to revolution.
